

UNIVERSITÄT
LEIPZIG

Module 2022-S2

“How to get published”

11/14 July 2022

Location: Leibniz Institute for Surface Engineering (IOM), Lecture Hall of Building 18

On-site event

(*the "on-site" participation is limited to 50 participants)

Preliminary schedule:

Part I: 2h lecture/seminar on the topic + discussion (11 July 2022, 09:00 am -11:30 am) and optional lab visit

Part II: 8h self-study, homework

Part III: 2h evaluation of the homework (14 July 2022, 09:00 am -11:00 am)

Title: How to get published

Location: Lecture Hall of IOM-Bldg. 18 and Microsoft Teams Meeting

Dates: Monday, 11th, 09:00 – 11:30 and Thursday, 14th July, 2022, 09:00 – 11:00

Organiser: André Anders andre.anders@iom-leipzig.de

Description: This event is for all interested in learning more about scientific publishing, especially for those who are new to publishing scientific work. The event is part of IOM's structured Graduate Training Program but also open to all IOM staff; It is also a BuildMoNa event and part of the BuildMoNa Module on Publishing (with the seminar module part scheduled for 14 July). The lecture on 11 July is also part of the event series “Tea Time” of the Leipzig Science Network. The lecture and discussion are back in the in-person format. Up to a maximum of 50 people can attend in the lecture hall of the IOM-building 18 (first upper floor). Please register with Annett Wedemann (annett.wedemann@iom-leipzig.de)

About the lecturer: Prof. Andre Anders has a joint appointment as Director of IOM and Professor of Applied Physics at the Univ. of Leipzig. His specialty is plasma physics and material sciences. He has authored 3 books and more than 350 papers in peer-reviewed journals, which are cited over 20,000 times. He is the Editor-in-Chief of Journal of Applied Physics and thus can explain publishing subtleties from the viewpoint of author, reviewer and editor.